about us

Habitat for Humanity Halton-Mississauga

Since 1999, we have been working together with our corporate, community & construction partners... and marshalling the efforts of legions of volunteers to provide affordable housing options to families in Burlington, Oakville, Mississauga, Milton and Halton Hills. 100% of the money Habitat receives for the repayment of our mortgages is channeled into our Fund for Humanity and utilized in the building or renovating of more homes for more families. Our ReStores in Burlington, Mississauga and Milton are our 'social enterprise'. Net proceeds from them pay for 100% of our administrative and operating costs enabling us to direct 100% of our donations into our build programs.

In 2019,

115 families were impacted by Habitat in Halton-Mississauga.

34 homes in our pipeline under construction.

Through other Habitat for Humanity programs in 2019:

$4,525,295.00
total ReStore sales in 2019.

859 youth, including at-risk youth, received on-the-job skills training and instruction, building confidence and personal leadership skills.

9114 volunteers helped build homes, operate our ReStores and engage their communities in the work of Habitat for Humanity.

Twenty years ago, a team of dedicated and forward-thinking volunteers came together with a shared vision.

That vision was to join a fledgling world-wide movement to address the need for families everywhere to have safe, decent, affordable, appropriate shelter. Habitat for Humanity Halton (and then Habitat Halton-Mississauga as of 2015) has deep roots in that shared vision.

2019 marked the 20th anniversary of our commitment to and pursuit of that vision right here in our community. We celebrate the many families whose lives have been transformationally changed through the power of safe, affordable, appropriate housing as well as the families we have served through other housing-related community support programs. It is humbling to know how profoundly lives can change by having a place to call home.

In our 20th year, we also take a moment to appreciate that every home we have built, renovated or repaired ... and every family we have supported ... represents a magnificent confluence of energy.

celebrating 20 years

The coming together of businesses, corporations, community groups, faith communities, contractors, small business owners and individual donors, all of whom have donated their hard-earned money, discounted or donated construction materials or who have offered their valuable professional services in support of our mission. Add to this, the legions of dedicated volunteers who have helped grow our ReStores, served on our Board or Committees, picked up a hammer or paint brush, have hauled or hung drywall, installed siding ... who have selflessly given of their time energy and support to help us serve local families. This is truly the power of community harnessed for good.

How far we have come since our inception in 1999 and our first build in 2001! As we look ahead to the completion of our next 18-unit housing project on Queensway, we can truly celebrate our accomplishments and reaffirm our commitment to introduce many, many more families in our community to the power of 'home' in the twenty years ahead.

2019 program highlights

Bold New Housing Strategy

On September 5, 2019, with help from MPs Karina Gould and Pam Damoff, a bold new housing strategy was unveiled joining Habitat HM with Halton Women's Place, Milton Transitional Housing, Halton Multicultural Council, and Summit Housing Outreach Programs that will see the agencies work in collaboration to provide housing to the most vulnerable in our community. Each of the agencies will house clients in at least one of the homes in the 18-unit Queensway multiplex.

Gap - Housing for the Missing Middle

Gap housing is specifically targeted to help families and individuals making a moderate income between $60,000 to $100,000. In Mississauga and beyond thousands of individuals fit within this income range. Habitat Halton-Mississauga is currently rolling out a GAP housing option as part of its newest build partnership with the Daniels Corporation for housing located within the Arc Condominiums in Mississauga.

Tiny Homes - Think Small

Thanks to an exciting new partnership with the Milton School Board and the efforts of highly engaged and motivated students enrolled in their Construction program, Habitat Halton-Mississauga has started construction on its first two tiny houses. Habitat has been working with the MDHS team for the past three years on a number of projects, offering students a practical opportunity for skills training and development and to sample potential career paths.

Habitat Housing Hub

Imagine a six story, hotel-style building with a first floor used as intake, programming and office space for service organizations housed within it. Designed in the spirit of a traditional 'inn', welcoming individuals and families for emergency, transitional and short-stays. In effect, it offers efficient, cost effective and centralized housing support to a broad cross-section of the service and partner agencies with whom which it works.

This successful social enterprise is a Canadian idea that helps local Habitats build more homes and is an environmentally-friendly initiative, diverting high-quality product away from landfills.

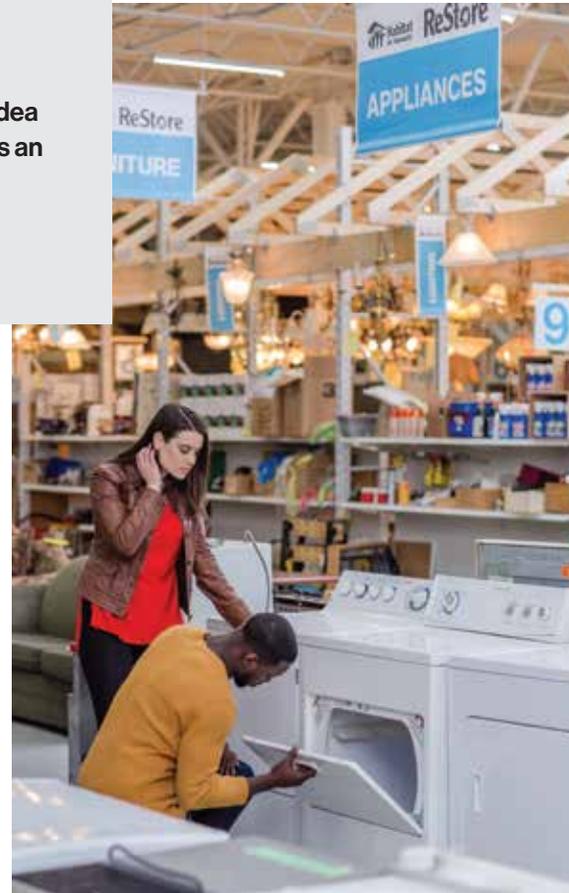

Since 2002, our ReStores have been diverting hundreds of thousands of tonnes of materials from landfill and giving families opportunities to purchase affordable household items and building materials while doing our part to protect the planet.

ReStores are the engine that drives our mission. Profits from them pay for our operations and admin costs so that every penny of every donation we receive can be funneled into our housing programs to help more families right here in our community.

ReVive: our exclusive upcycling centre

Typically, recycling is all about breaking down old items into their raw material state in order to create new items to save them from going to landfill. But it takes energy and resources to break these down into their rawest form before they can be recycled into new products.

Upcycling is similar to recycling in that it takes something used and converts into a new product. But the big difference is that we don't need a supply chain or to use non-renewable energy to do it. When something is upcycled, the final product can often be of greater value than the original. Or sometimes, upcycling is the result of creative, innovative minds. We have lots of those at Habitat Halton-Mississauga!

A green initiative with a difference

Our ReVive Upcycling program helps us breathe new life into items donated to our ReStores. Our ReVive Center is a fully equipped, multi-purpose product development space designed to offer volunteers and participants the opportunity to explore and experience a variety of DIY, small-scale construction and upcycling projects through hands-on building activities and workshops that recycles, transforms and breathes new life into donated products and materials that would otherwise be sent to landfill. As a green-oriented initiative and the very first of its kind, the ReVive Center is an innovative unique idea that helps us raise funds that support our Habitat for Humanity mission.

kitchen deconstruction diverting construction waste

Real estate experts say that kitchen and bathroom renovations are two of the key things that improve the value of your home. Savvy renovators on a limited budget know that there are ways to update a kitchen without purchasing brand new. Habitat Halton-Mississauga helped nearly 160 families keep their gently used kitchens out of landfill in 2019 and another 160 families upgrade their kitchens affordably. Even better, donors received a charitable tax receipt for the for-sale value of their donation. The proceeds from the sale of kitchens through our ReStores topped $500,000 in 2019 and helped Habitat achieve its mission in our community.

Our Salvage service is free and it starts with a phone call. Donors can gently remove their kitchens and have them ready for us or Habitat can remove them. Either way, families save money on the cost of removal, disposal fees and help our planet by reducing what is unnecessarily sent to landfill leaving a few more dollars available in the reno budget. And for families making space for new appliances, Habitat welcomes donations of fridges, stoves, dishwashers, microwaves and counter tops.

$500,000.00+ raised from the kitchens sold supported our build programs.
